

Designer's Control

The Designer's Remote console duplicates the keypad of the EnAct control console, providing remote control of those consoles with remote video support. The Designer's Remote is also available for the Bijou control console.

Handheld Remote

The Handheld Remote works with the EnAct consoles. It features a two-line, 15-character LCD display that is easy to read. For ease of use, the numeric keys on the remote mirrors that of the numeric keypad on the main console. The Handheld Remote is also available for the Bijou control consoles.

Video Remote

In conjunction with the Video Remote, both the Enact and Bijou consoles can output the SVGA display to any remote location up to 1000 feet away.
